What Bob Schenck Says About His Leave of Absence

NEW YORK, March 8.—[illegible] visit to this country is solely upon private affairs that he has not come home [illegible] cabinet or other office and that he will return to England in May when his leave of absence expires. [illegible] Washington on Tuesday where he will remain three days. He will then [illegible] the last three weeks of his stay in the United States will be passed in New York.

Another Piece of Villainy in Bank Management—A Prominent Government Official Said to be Implicated

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Herald says it is reported that the sub-Committee of the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House of Representatives, has discovered that [illegible] of the Ocean National Bank in collusion with certain parties in Wall street made all necessary arrangements for having the bank closed at a particular time and that arrangements were perfected months previous to the time when the bank was closed. Among other features of arrangements it is alleged that testimony shows that Davis was decided upon as referee from the first day that the conspiracy was resolved upon and that to make the conspiracy a success it was found necessary to secure the official assistance of a prominent and well known official of the Government at Washington. The committee left last evening for Washington.

Make Room for Back-Pay Butler.

BOSTON, March 8.—A rumor is gaining ground here that the present Postmaster is to retire and that State Senator Bailey is to be made Postmaster. [illegible] Bailey was an earnest worker for Gen Butler in both of his attempts on the Gubernatorial chair.

Death of Millard Fillmore.

BUFFALO, March 8.—Ex-President Fillmore died at his residence in this city at 10 minutes after 11 o'clock last night. His death was painless.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

King Wilhelm's Health.

NEW YORK, March 8.—A special from Berlin says the German Emperor's health is such as to cause renewed uneasiness.

Dr. Kenealy, of Counsel, Heard From

LONDON, March 9—[illegible] A M—Dr Kenealy counsel for the Tichborne Claimant has published a protest against the language of the press and conduct of the court, particularly regarding the one [illegible] by the latter of its power of committing parties for contempt, which he declares to be an unconstitutional revival of the Star Chamber tyranny. He adds that the prosecution having succeeded in destroying the Claimant, now seeks to ruin his counsel.

Gladstone Resigns the Liberal Leadership.

LONDON, March 9.—The Daily News says Gladstone has announced his final determination to relinquish the leadership of the Liberal party. It is to be hoped his intention will be modified so as only to apply to the present session of Parliament. A [illegible] decision on this point is expected in a few days.

WASHINGTON CITY

Postal Changes for Last Week

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The following are the postal changes ordered for the Pacific coast: Offices established at Patha, Walla Walla county, W T; A J Favor P M. Postmasters appointed: P Hamlin, at Marion, Marion county, Oregon; John Briscoe, at Oysterville, Pacific county, W T.

Senator John P. Jones wants the Desert to Blossom like the Rose.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Senator Jones has received full reports of surveys made to ascertain the practicability of reclaiming the Colorado desert by turning into it the waters of the Colorado river, accompanied by interesting communications. He thinks the subject worthy of Government investigation and proposes asking Congress to authorize a thorough survey.

[illegible] on Utah Affairs.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Chairman McKee of the House Committee on Territories, said there is no doubt whatever that his stringent bill relating to Utah troubles reported one week ago will easily pass both Houses. He says it is less stringent than either the McCullen or the Frelinghuysen bill, each of which has had the sanction of one branch or the other of the preceding Congress.

Railroad Legislation.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The House Committee on Railways and Canals is quite confident of passing McCrary's bill appointing a Commission to regulate railroad fares and freights. A Western member will prepare an amendment depriving the Commissioners of absolute power of fixing rates but making them a sort of intermediate arbitrators between the railroads and aggrieved parties with summary powers to correct grievances through the United States courts. This will be opposed on the ground that the remedy is too troublesome of enforcement to have salutary influence over railroad extortioners. The Senate Committee on Transportation are thus far unable to agree on any report but a majority report is deemed probable favoring a moderate measure received from the House on the railroad question.

DUELING IN VIRGINIA

The following is the letter of Gov. Kemper of Virginia, pardoning W Page McCarty of Richmond. This young man it will be remembered was convicted of "involuntary manslaughter," in killing his antagonist in a duel, and was fined $500 and sentenced to six months' imprisonment in jail:

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, Feb 17 1874.

There is but one ground upon which Executive clemency should be exercised in this case. It is proved by medical testimony of very high character that the condition of the prisoner is such that his life would be greatly imperiled by further imprisonment. The life of a citizen may not be taken except in pursuance of a sentence lawfully declaring its forfeiture. Pardon is granted in this case solely because it is necessary to save life. The reasons upon which clemency is invoked in the numerously signed petitions filed in the case are wholly disapproved, and it must not be doubted that the penalties of the Anti-dueling act will be inflexibly enforced so far as their enforcement is devolved upon this office.

(Signed) JAMES L KEMPER

BLOWN TO ATOMS.—On last Friday evening, says the Houghton (Mich.) Mining Gazette, the [illegible] of February 30th at about [illegible] o'clock a terrible accident occurred at the Phœnix mine in Keweenaw county two miles from Eagle river the origin of which will probably never be known. Four miners and a subordinate underground officer were preparing an apartment of a building on the location occupied by the mining captain as his office a quantity of dualin, to use that night in making a "sand blast" in the mine. The men were taking the dualin—100 pounds—from its original package, and transferring it to a bag when the explosion took place. Besides the dualin there were three kegs of powder in the room. Three of the men were handling the explosive, the fourth was holding a lighted candle, while the fifth man stood looking on when the explosion occurred. The house was shattered to atoms and the men literally blown to pieces. Captain John Hoar, an intelligent superintendent of the mine, was in his office, an adjoining room at the time, seated at his desk, and was struck by some of the flying missiles on the left side of the head and face, receiving such injuries that he died this (Sunday) morning.

THE TRICHINA.—The report of [illegible] the scientific gentlemen who [illegible] investigating the Indiana cases of death from trichina sets forth that the period of [illegible] from twelve to twenty days; that the disease like measles and small pox [illegible] limited and like these [illegible] except from a second.

The microscopic examination of a portion of Mrs Benter's flesh and of the hog from it developed the startling fact that millions of the trichina were alive, coiling and uncoiling in the tissues. This fact has caused a profound sensation throughout that section of Indiana in which Aurora is situated and taken in connection with the deaths named completely killed the sale of pork as an article of human food. Experiments made with the infected pork show that 195 degrees Fahrenheit will destroy the worms, but as it requires 212 degrees to boil water the meat thoroughly boiled would be perfectly harmless. But the question is who would eat meat, no matter how much it was boiled, that was known to have been infected with trichina.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—A numerous delegation of women appeared before the Board of Supervisors to-night headed by Mrs Allen. They were invited to seats in the Chamber and presented a petition asking the Board to amend the municipal ordinance so as to increase the license paid by liquor sellers. The petition was received and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Three boys—Frank Higgins, John Bauerl and Walter MacMahon were arrested to-night for burglary. They broke into the house of a man named Jones and robbed it of jewelry and other property to the value of about $300. The prisoners are only about fourteen years of age.

A fire occurred this afternoon on Polk street. The damage was slight.

Interior California.

COLFAX, March 9.—The passenger train of to-day here on a side track is held there expecting the track to clear to-night when it will be able to go right through. The weather is clear, calm and moderate.

UNION, March 9.—A report from Alta says a passenger train will leave there about midnight, expecting by that time the track will be clear. The weather is cloudy, calm and moderate, cold and cloudy at the summit.

[illegible], March 9.—At 4.20 P M the snow plow from this side had got within a half mile of Blue Canyon. The plow from the west was off the track one mile west of there which only left one and a half miles to be opened in that section.

TRUCKEE, March 9.—The snow plow that left here at noon has not got to the summit yet. A large force of men are shoveling, and it is hoped the track will be cleared to-night. Weather clear, calm and pleasant.

MODESTO, March 9.—Tipton and Madden who were interested in a shooting scrape at Oakdale last Friday and made their escape gave themselves into the hands of the Sheriff at Stockton yesterday. The examination was postponed until to-morrow.

NEVADA.

RENO, March 9.—The train of Saturday is still here and will wait for the trains from the East to-night and couple in with them and proceed west on regular time. The road is all clear east now and but little trouble is apprehended between here and Truckee, as it has not stormed to-day. It is almost perfectly calm. The snow plow is four miles west of here still ditched and two engines and a gang of men have been at work all day but so far unsuccessfully. The V & T R R is running regular time, but the passenger train was abandoned last night on account of connection to be made.

WINNEMUCCA, March 9.—The passenger train due to leave here yesterday will leave about 7.30 this evening.

RENO, March 9, 9 P M.—The road is now all cleared with the exception of the snow plow off the track near Blue Canyon. The delayed train bound west will leave here at [illegible] and expects to go right through without difficulty.

DIAMOND SPRINGS, March 9.—Little cloudy, calm and pleasant.

EUREKA, March 9.—Clear and pleasant; snow melting fast.

UTAH

SALT LAKE, March 9.—Little cloudy but pleasant.

At Lillooet British Columbia the snow is three inches deep.

On Pavilion mountain the snow is two feet deep, and at all points very much drifted. All mail carriers have to break their own road.

At Clinton British Columbia the weather has been very severe, and considerable snow has fallen. On last Tuesday night the thermometer was 20° on Wednesday 21° and on Thursday 20° below zero.

At Laconner it commenced snowing during the night of the 8th and at 7 A M on the morning of the 9th nine inches of snow lay on the ground since which time we have had a continued succession of southerly gales, before which the snow all disappeared.

A TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT

STRATHROY, (Ont.) March 1.—A frightful accident occurred last night on the Great Western Railway three miles east of Komoka and seventy miles west of London by which several lives were lost and many persons badly burned and injured. The fire broke out in the water closet of the car. Efforts were made to subdue the flames but without success. The fire communicated rapidly to the whole car. The passengers rushed to the hinder part of the car making it impossible for any one to get out of the door. Some escaped by the windows, while a great many unable to escape were burned to a crisp. The bell rope was not attached to the engine consequently there was no way of stopping the train. It was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour and ran about three miles before it was stopped. The car was entirely burned [illegible]. At present it is supposed that about ten persons were burned to death and about the same number injured, many seriously. Among those injured by jumping off the train was a lady named Mrs. Purvis and child from [illegible], besides others who cannot be recognized so badly are they burned. Among those injured are Mr. McMahon and W. H. Murray [illegible] Mrs Oxford of London, Mr. [illegible] Wilfrid, Mr. Small of Toronto, and several others whose names are unknown. Of the latter it is said that McCann and Robinson [illegible] live.

LATER

The following are the killed and injured at Komoka [illegible] identified: Killed—George Burnham aged [illegible] of Petrolia; Harriet A. Dunn aged 25 [illegible]; an Indian woman and infant from Muncietown; John McKellar [illegible] of Strathroy [illegible] seriously injured; [illegible] Robinson of [illegible] scalp wound and [illegible] Neil McGuire of Strathroy, scalp wound; John H. [illegible] Toronto; Mrs. S. Crow [illegible]; J. B. Harsden [illegible] Bread [illegible] Strathroy and the other two [illegible] slightly injured.

On the north fork of Snake river the weather the past winter has been very unusually cold. Snow has been on the ground for one half of the time since the first of December but little plowing has yet been done. Stock up to the middle of February did as well as usual but owing to grass being so long under the snow cattle became reduced in flesh and quite a number have died since that time. On Snake river the grass is improving, and stock are at present doing better.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE PEOPLES COUNTY CONVENTION FOR POLK COUNTY

[From the Dallas Liberal Republican.]

Pursuant to call, the delegates to the Polk County Tax-payers' Convention assembled in the Court House in Dallas on March [illegible] to nominate candidates to the Legislature and for the several county offices.

I Bently of Monmouth was selected to preside during the temporary organization.

A Committee on Credentials being appointed they reported eighty delegates entitled to seats. The roll being called seventy-eight delegates responded.

The following committees were then appointed:

[illegible]—[illegible] Butler, Cal [illegible] Bell and James Allen.

[illegible]—Joseph Black of Douglas; [illegible] Butler, Jackson; Wm. Cottle, Salt [illegible]; M Henry, Bethel; T Pierce, [illegible]; [illegible] D [illegible] B [illegible] Polk, Monmouth; B [illegible] Nichols, Dallas; David Stump, [illegible] Vista; S S Powell, Luckiamute; Isaac Smith, [illegible].

Committee on Permanent Organization reported recommending I Bently Chairman, J M Lewis Secretary, B [illegible] Assistant Secretary. Report adopted.

The Convention resolved itself into a committee of the whole on Order of Business and reported the following: Election of three Representatives one at a time, Judge, Sheriff, Clerk, Treasurer, County Commissioners, Assessor, School Superintendent, Coroner, Six delegates to the State Convention.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following resolutions:

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE POLK COUNTY [illegible] CONVENTION.

[illegible] That to promote the welfare and happiness of the people it should be the end of the Government and that this end can only be secured by choosing honest and good men for office.

That the present political party organizations are corrupt and [illegible] to such an extent that the principal object is not the promotion of the public weal, but the aggrandizement of themselves [illegible] by corrupt and dishonest means.

[illegible] That we deny the authority of any party to [illegible] to support a party candidate by nomination [illegible].

[illegible] That we condemn the practice which is prevalent among members of the last several Legislatures in forming rings [illegible] by tacking to bills [illegible] going into law what is known as Omnibus Bills.

That every bill [illegible] and [illegible] and is unfit to be passed unless standing alone it [illegible].

That we [illegible] that it has come to be understood by the people of this [illegible] members and officers of the Legislature that bribery is [illegible] crime [illegible] perjury [illegible] suspected of having received money or [illegible] for his vote.

That our taxes [illegible] State and county are high and oppressive and can be greatly reduced without detriment to the public service.

[illegible] That the action of the last Legislature in increasing the salaries of officers indirectly by per diem is in direct violation of the Constitution of the state and [illegible] the [illegible] salary grab made by Congress which has been justly condemned by the people and ought to have been wholly repealed including the increase of the salaries of the President and Justices of the Supreme Court.

[illegible] That it is a vicious practice and in bad taste for officers who have accepted office at one salary to lobby the Legislature to get their pay increased.

10. That we deprecate the practice of Federal and other officers using their official positions to control political conventions.

11. That the people should dictate who they will nominate and not those who happen to hold office to dictate their own successors.

[illegible] That we are opposed to bestowing office on [illegible] politicians who make office hunting a business; that we want business men for office; that no man should be trusted with a responsible office who has not shown himself capable of securing a respectable living in some honorable employment; that the man who cannot manage his own business will be likely to prove a bad officer in a public [illegible].

[illegible] That we assert the doctrine that a monopoly is beyond the control of the Government; that the State has a right to regulate fares and freights on railroads which are wholly within its limits, and that Congress can and ought to do the same in relation to inter-State railroads.

14. That the most important interest of the state is agriculture and that our farmers are deeply interested in cheap transportation and the improvement of our river and harbors and we earnestly recommend liberal appropriations by Congress for that purpose.

[illegible] That we have but little faith in the action of [illegible] political parties to provide [illegible] cheap transport [illegible] surplus products.

16. That we earnestly desire the extension through this county of the West Side R R [illegible], we assert the right of the State to regulate fares and freights on railroads exclusively operated in this State, yet we would deprecate and oppose any legislative action [illegible] the same unless [illegible] fares and freights [illegible].

[illegible] That [illegible] the interest of [illegible] money [illegible] corporations are not [illegible] to represent them in Congress.

18. That we are deeply impressed with the belief that the greatest danger that now threatens the national prosperity [illegible] the existence of our free institutions [illegible] the overgrown influence of great political rings [illegible] monopolies which seek to control [illegible] to an alarming extent, controlling the national legislature and [illegible] every department of the Government [illegible] the accomplishment of unjust and selfish ends.

19. That we are emphatically opposed to the purchase by the State of the Locks and Canal at Oregon City.

20. That we sympathize and will co-operate with all attempts for the moral and intellectual improvement of the people and we regard the temperance [illegible] of the [illegible] which are working for the advancement of the cause of temperance as deserving of the consideration of good men everywhere.

That we are in favor of a Local Option Liquor and Civil Damage Law.

Wm Lewis moved to amend Art 20 by appending "that we are in favor of a Local Option Liquor and Civil Damage Law." Amendment carried. The resolutions were then unanimously adopted.

Nominations for County Officers.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for candidates and the following officers were nominated:

For Representatives—W C Brown, J. D. Baker and David Stump; [illegible]—Warren [illegible]; [illegible]—Frank [illegible]; [illegible]—M May; County Commissioners—H C [illegible] of Grand Ronde, and J D Smith of Luckiamute; [illegible].

The following persons were elected to the State Convention: [illegible] J N Butler, [illegible] Stump, [illegible] Williams, J Tatom, D M Boone.

The following persons were selected for Tax Payers County Central Committee:

Dallas, B J Nichols; [illegible] Pierce; Bridgeport, [illegible] Smith; Luckiamute, [illegible]; Smith, Douglas; B Branson, Jackson; [illegible] Salt Lake, A M Hawley; Monmouth, [illegible] Dixie, [illegible] Bethel, [illegible].

About [illegible] per cent of this number have already died and from the prospects of the weather it present there will be from 5 to 10 per cent of the remainder die. There are about 11,000 sheep in the vicinity of Tule Lake. Of this number 5,000 head were brought in last summer and fall and consequently did not get fat before winter came. The result is that 50 to 75 per cent will die and in some cases nearly the whole flock will be lost while those that were fat at the commencement of winter will get through without a loss of probably more than 7 per cent. Report says cattle are dying in Langell's valley. For nearly ninety days the snow has been laying on the ground from four to twelve inches in depth.

WASHINGTON COUNTY AFFAIRS

HILLSBORO, March 6, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Independent call in Washington county seems to have created quite a stir in every department. It certainly has set a certain faction in the county to cackling equal to the best hen conventions. All kinds of rumors are afloat as to what they intend to do. First we hear of a wholesale slaughter, that the bells are already tolling the death knell of every office holder in the county, denouncing them as a ring of corruptionists, (which soft impeachment is denied by the Coroner, on the ground that he has not had a case since coming into office.) In the next breath we have the announcement that the ticket is made up and ready for use of men that have always figured in politics and as office seekers have proven to be total failures of years gone by. Present office holders announce themselves ready to bow to the will of the people and abdicate at their command, but protest against the elevation of their opponents merely because they are their opponents and without regard to party. Protest against the effort of friends of monopolists, political hacks, railroad and other rings who are using their utmost endeavors to make this a means to ride into power by packing conventions, stirring up local feuds between the different sections of the county, attempting to take the [illegible] out of the hands of the people and run it themselves.

If the tax paying people [illegible] are dissatisfied in the county with the manner in which the county finances have been managed [illegible] that the [illegible] of the county can be reduced, it is a right and a duty they owe to themselves and the county to vote for only such men as will turn themselves [illegible] to the accomplishment of this object. The exorbitant fee system complained of is a matter for legislation and it is a matter for the people to decide whether the Legislature is not more to blame for [illegible] the exorbitant fee bill than the officers for taking what the Legislature gives them. Party claim that if the fees of all officers were cut down to the lowest [illegible] figures that there would be ten [illegible] litigation. The Grangers announce that one of the [illegible] but in these times when people feel that they have been oppressed [illegible] exorbitant fee bills but [illegible] have [illegible] the wishes of the people rough shod and now seek to cheat them of their hoped for redress, it will be well to consider carefully the standing position [illegible] every delegate sent up to Convention and every person nominated for office. Know first what you want to reform, and then vote for only such men as [illegible] will.

If the farmers of the county wish to take charge of the county and State offices, leaving all those who have held and sought office out in the cold no one certainly could object. If on the other hand it is only a transfer to other factions I don't see where the reform is coming in at or where the matters are to be bettered.

THE TERRITORIES

The Northwestern Territories have [illegible].

It costs only $[illegible] to run the Montana penitentiary a month.

Idahoans protest against the abandonment of the military post at Fort Boise.

Walla Walla county contains [illegible] road districts but very few roads except those which nature made.

It is reported that the postoffice at Walla Walla has been advanced from a third to second class office.

There are now in Whitman county, W T, four established Granges numbering about one hundred and fifty members.

The Montanian says the bill fixing the compensation of Auditor and Treasurer, was finally passed, allowing each of these officers $1,500.

Two cars freighted with merchandise direct from Japan and twenty cars of tea billetted for Chicago and New York passed through Ogden last week.

Rev J H Wells has just returned to Walla Walla after an absence of several months in the East. We understand he brought back $3,000 for church purposes.

Marshall Blinn has turned over the office of Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory to Gen Milroy, his successor who was also his predecessor.

Five hundred and twenty five dollars was raised in about two hours on the 17th of February towards buying a lot on which to build a Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Walla Walla.

Passengers from the East, at Ogden report that the praying mania has reached many towns along the Union Pacific road where liquor is sold and that women are organizing to join in the crusade against rum.

Fire alarms were more frequent than interesting at Walla Walla last week. No less than half a dozen times were the people roused from their warm beds to rush forth in the cold night air. But no other harm was done.

A number of persons in Bitter Root, Montana proffered Mr Catlin if he would come there and preach a 160 acre improved farm, four cows and one year's supply of provisions. New York look out for a rush of ministers to Bitter Root.

The Indian outbreak in Wyoming is not favorable to the plans of the Yellowstone Expedition from Bozeman. But it is well the outbreak occurred before their advance east ward could be submitted by the humanitarians as the cause of hostilities.

There is now at Wallula about 600 tons of wheat awaiting shipment down the Columbia river. There is also a large amount of freight below. The Columbia river is so low that it is impossible for the boats to run, and freights will have to lay in store until the snows in the mountains melt.

The Boise City Statesman of Feb 26th says: This weather is awful on cattle and sheep, and unless it comes off warm very soon, the probability is that the stock in this valley will die off by thousands and in consequence the pocket books of many who have been esteemed rich will look in the spring as though an elephant had trod on them.

The following is a summary of business transacted at the United States Land Office for the Walla Walla District during the month of February: Four final homestead proofs filed for 574 acres; 1 homestead application filed for 80 acres; [illegible] cash entries, for 500 acres; 28 declaratory statements filed for 4,480 acres. Total number of acres disposed of 5,634.

The body of John Tighe, a soldier who disappeared from Fort Walla Walla some three weeks ago was found in the yard around the old pest house in the outskirts of Walla Walla last week. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition. He is supposed to have started from the town to the garrison, and being intoxicated climbed over the fence and laid down and froze to death.

[illegible] Armijo, the sheep king of New Mexico committed suicide under romantic circumstances. He was only about 23 years of age and was descended from a high Spanish family. He started life in a New York banking house, but returned to New Mexico and engaged in sheep culture. He controlled no less than 250,000 sheep in his own country. During a sojourn in Denver he became engaged to Miss Otero and one evening in November being at a seance with Foster the medium the latter told him he would come to a violent death. It proved so sure enough. Miss Otero jilted him and he blew out his brains.

WINNING A BET ON GOV MOSES

Cor of the Augusta Constitutionalist.

I shall begin this scrawl by telling a little anecdote of Tim Hurley, a native of the Hub and now a representative of the good people of Charleston, who by the way is shrewd and excessively fond of a joke.

A few days since he accosted a well-known citizen thus: "I will wager one thousand finest Havanas that Moses owes every merchant on Main street between the State House and the Columbia Hotel."

"Agreed!" said P—. "We will soon test the matter." Whereupon they started on their errand of inquiry.

The first house entered was the large grocery establishment of Senn & Son. Said Hurley: "Mr Senn, I am directed by the Governor to settle the little claim you hold against him; please inform me of the amount."

Mr Senn, delighted, rushed to his ledger and in the most affable manner told Tim that the amount was first for groceries and $[illegible] which the Governor had borrowed soon after inauguration. Hurley recollected that he could not pay the amount until the next day when the party went to the next store and so on until the Columbia Hotel was reached. Every merchant and haberdasher along the way had claims against his Excellency, many of them exhibiting handfuls of pay certificates which Moses had deposited with them over two years since.

One poor German who owns a restaurant and bar complained that his business must soon perish unless the Governor would pay him for $300 worth of cigars bought over a year ago.

Hurley won his bet and now with his pockets well filled with cigars he relates the little incident and offers a smoke to all he meets.

What Moses does with the large amount he handles is not known. Ex-Treasurer [illegible] says he must spend at least $200,000 a year, yet he owes everybody and never has a cent upon his "honor."

CALL FOR AN INDEPENDENT STATE CONVENTION.

The Douglas County Independent Tax-Payers Convention having assembled this 5th day of February 1874 and nominated a full Legislative and County ticket, and having adjourned in full harmony, [illegible] majority of the members of [illegible] of the State having organized for the purpose of [illegible] bringing an Independent State ticket, the following resolution on motion, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention the interests of the people of Oregon will be better subserved by independent political action than by strict adherence to existing party organizations and that the people of the several counties of the State be and hereby are requested to select delegates to an Independent State Convention to be held at Salem on the [illegible] day of April, A D 1874 at 10 o'clock A M for the purpose of nominating a State ticket to be presented to the voters at the coming election.

This Convention recommends that in selecting such delegates the basis of apportionment be one delegate for every 200 votes cast at the election of 1872 for Wilson and Burnett and one additional delegate for a fraction of [illegible] votes or over. Upon this basis the number of delegates from the respective counties will be as follows:

	Total Vote	Delegates
Baker	942	5
Benton	1,222	6
Clackamas	1,490	7
Clatsop	350	2

Union	914	[illegible]
Washington	[illegible]	[illegible]
Wasco	968	5
Yamhill	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total		127

On motion the Convention further recommended that the people throughout the State assemble in their respective precincts on Saturday March 28th and elect delegates to assemble in County Conventions on Saturday April 4 1874 (except in those counties where steps have already been taken to choose delegates for meeting at some other time), and there elect delegates according to the above apportionment to meet in State Convention to nominate State officers.

On motion the Convention adjourned there being 70 delegates present, and the proceedings marked by complete unanimity and harmony.

TUESDAY MORNING MARCH 10 1874

APPLYING THE GAG

We are in receipt of a private letter from a gentleman in Douglas county giving the proceedings of the [illegible] Democratic County Convention held at Roseburg last Saturday. The faithful appear not to have learned anything from the events which have transpired of late. An attempt was made [illegible] the party [illegible] to prevent free thought in politics [illegible] and the party lash to whip recreants back into submission with all the [illegible] of olden time. All Democrats who signed the call for an independent county ticket were read out of the party. [illegible] of those who were delegates to the Independent County Convention [illegible] who in that body opposed the movement for an Independent State Convention, coming up to the Democratic Convention as delegates with full and regular credentials, were excluded from participation on the ground that they were not Democrats. This species of discipline threw out the delegates from all precincts north of Wilbur, that is—Oakland, Yoncalla, Elkton, Scottsburg and Gardiner precincts.

So it is apparent that the spirit of intolerance is as strong to-day as ever among those who have control of the party organization in Douglas county. And it is thus in all places except where the party has no possible show of carrying either county or district. These men who control the party expect to make profit for themselves or their friends out of its success, and they are bent on ruling it in their own interests or else destroying it in their efforts to do so. They will succeed in this latter.

These peculiar and interesting performances are by no means confined to the Democracy. They are only one manifestation of the intolerant and tyrannical spirit which has for some years past made the proceedings of the Republican party at Portland and in some other places in the State a libel on popular elections and a caricature of free government.

As might be expected, and as should be the case, the people of Douglas county over whose shoulders the party lash has been thus cracked are resolved not to submit and they declare they will support the Independent ticket, county and State, with all their power. Many of them are of the most wealthy and influential men in the county, and their refusal to be gagged and lashed into the will of the politicians has frightened the latter terribly. It is too late now to heal up the matter, however, as the citizens who were thus disfranchised in their own party refuse to consider any proposition that contemplates their withholding support from the Independent movement.

ANOTHER RUPTURE

One hundred and twenty one free and [illegible] Democratic county of Umatilla have issued a call in which they invite their fellow citizens who believe in honest legislation and administration, to unite with them "under a banner broad enough to embrace all who favor just laws and oppose cliques, rings, combinations or monopolies, extravagance and disregard of economy in county, State and nation." For cause of grievance, they publish this ringing preamble:

Whereas, Through political leaders and rings composing members of the Democratic party the agricultural, mechanical and laboring interests of Umatilla county have been criminally neglected and outrageously taxed and the will of the people thwarted and shamefully disregarded, the treasury depleted and heavy obligations contracted in open disregard of justice, economy and our constitutional rights; therefore be it

Resolved, That as farmers, mechanics and laboring men we cut ourselves loose from all party obligations in local affairs, etc.

The voters of Umatilla county are requested to assemble in their precincts on April 11th and "elect delegates to attend a county convention to be held in Pendleton, Wednesday, April 15th, to select candidates, irrespective of party, for county offices.

The Walla Walla Spirit of the West gives a succinct summary of the grievances complained of, somewhat more specific than the preamble above quoted. It is said that the tax levies of Umatilla county have reached to from 24 to 32 mills for ten years past, the Sheriffs during that period have made fortunes from salaries altogether out of due proportion to services performed, but the people have been growing poorer. "$20,000 and over" is the extent to which unjust legislation and wasteful administration combined have depleted the county treasury. "The debt of the county foots up $40,000 and more coming" say they. The fee bill passed by the Legislature of 1872 is attacked and its repeal demanded. The Independent Call, we omitted to state, hints that the Democratic managers in the vicinity of Umatilla are not so scrupulous of the rights of the rank and file as sound discretion would dictate. It is claimed that they have made an apportionment of delegates which is unjust, unfair, contrary to Democratic usage and without a precedent."

This irruption on managerial rights is also "without a precedent" in that region hitherto distinguished for unquestioning partisanship. Somehow it [illegible] this aspect: the drudges, the political hewers of wood and drawers of water, the beasts of burden have started up to look their masters in the face and inquire "How have we treated us?" What shall the master say? If they [illegible] which in speaking of the remarkable scenes in the Multnomah Democratic County Convention [illegible]. This feature was a most gratifying evidence of party vitality; beyond this it has no significance.

There [illegible] between Chicago and St Louis [illegible] entries which pass between the newspapers of the two villages are sharp and pointed in their way. [illegible] the Chicago T[illegible]. A New York paper declares that St Louis is the first city in the continent. So it is first—as [illegible]. Again the Times introduced a telegram recently with the heading "Washington's [illegible] the Memoir of a Man who Could [illegible] Generally Celebrated by People who Can."

MILLARD FILLMORE

Millard Fillmore, 13th President of the United States, died at his home in Buffalo on the evening of Sunday, March 8th, at the advanced age of 74 years.

There remains perhaps no public man with wh[illegible] the people of America [illegible]. He was born in the backwoods—for at the time of his birth [illegible] 1800 Cayuga county New York was but a sparsely settled wilderness—and his earlier years were spent in the rude vocations of pioneer life. His biographer has said of him that up to his nineteenth year he never saw either grammar or geography. At that age he conceived the idea of studying law. Through hardships innumerable he persevered until his strenuous purpose brought him at the age of 2[illegible] to the first rank of the legal profession in New York. The story of his early struggles is so full of honest purpose and moral courage that we cannot forbear a brief review. At the age of 14 he was apprenticed to learn the fuller's trade and when he commenced the study of law he owed two years of service to his master. He purchased his freedom by yielding up his wages for his last year of service and paying $30 for the unexpired term. Then with Blackstone's Commentaries and Tidd's Practice for a library, he entered on his studies. At the age of 2[illegible] he removed to Buffalo. This journey was performed on foot. Here the privations of his earlier life again confronted him but he overcame all and in 182[illegible] on the petition of prominent attorneys he was admitted to practice by the Court of Common Pleas of Erie county under a suspension of the rule requiring seven years of study from such as had not received a classical education. We cannot forbear quoting one sentence from his biographer which contains the secret of his marked success: "Nothing was passed until it was thoroughly understood." His first library was purchased for $30 payable in three annual payments of $10 each, secured by a mortgage on the property. In 1830 he removed to Buffalo, where he associated himself with Nathan K. Hall.

We have given a brief and incomplete sketch of the life of Millard Fillmore up to the commencement of a career which is little less than marvellous in its unvarying success and rapid culmination. In 1828 Mr Fillmore was elected to the State Legislature on the anti-Masonic ticket. In that body he was distinguished among men whose names are historic, such men as Thurlow Weed, Wm. H. Seward, John A. Dix, Daniel S. Dickinson and Benjamin D. Silliman. In a letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives dated February 6th, 1874, in acknowledgment of the courtesy of the House in tendering him the privileges of the floor, Mr Weed recalls in generous terms his pleasant reminiscences of the days in which he was a member of that body. In 1832 Mr Fillmore was sent to Congress by the anti-Jackson party and again in 1836, 1838 and 1840. In 1842 he received the unanimous nomination of the Whig Convention but peremptorily declined. In 1844 he was defeated for Governor of New York by Silas Wright. In 1847 he was elected State Comptroller.

In 1848 Mr Fillmore was elected Vice President of the United States, Gen Taylor being elected President. He presided over the Senate with marked courage and ability during the stormy session in which the admission of California, under a Constitution prohibiting slavery, was under discussion. It was a battle of giants. There were Webster, Clay, Calhoun, Benton, Cass, Salmon P. Chase, William H. Seward and Henry S. Foote. Of these who fought in the Senate in that tumultuous time, Henry S. Foote alone remains. General Taylor died July 9th, 1850, and Millard Fillmore was inaugurated [illegible] the following day. Already the irrepressible conflict had begun and the ominous clouds of civil war whose gloom had oppressed the prophetic spirit of Webster hung over the stormy Senate. The Taylor cabinet retired in a body and President Fillmore called to his council Daniel Webster, Thomas Corwin, John J. Crittenden and Nathan K. Hall, his former partner. The Fugitive Slave law was passed and approved by the President. This will always be accounted the one imprudent step of Mr Fillmore's life. By it he lost a magnificent political prestige which he never afterward recovered. In 1856, while at Rome, he was nominated President by the American party and [illegible].

The remaining years of Mr Fillmore's life were spent in quiet seclusion and diligent study. He lived to see the Fugitive Slave law annulled by the [illegible] of the same North which placed in his hand the pen with which he [illegible] approval. He has passed into eternity leaving behind him a monument more enduring than brass—a life which was in the aggregate a splendid success [illegible].

GOVERNOR SHEPHERD REPLIES

Since the [illegible] of the [illegible] Second [illegible] the country has heard much concerning the operation of the Board of Public Works of the District of Columbia [illegible] District of Columbia [illegible]. A brief and altogether unsatisfactory synopsis of this much [illegible] extravagance and misappropriation of funds are based. From the report of the Board of Public Works it appears that they received up to the 28th of February of the present year, $[illegible] 256,[illegible]. Their expenditures on private [illegible] exceeds the original estimates by about five per cent. Thus far the allegations of the press and the Corcoran memorial are sustained by the original contracts and vouchers. Our telegraphic report furnishes an answer to the accusations which brought about the appointment of the committee.

Governor Shepherd gives an [illegible] of the [illegible] of the Government [illegible]. According to [illegible] the United States should pay [illegible] four and one half millions of dollars. Then he suggests that, if the Government will pay this amount and hereafter contribute annually its just proportion toward the current expenses as well as the extinguishment of the [illegible] debt [illegible] associates in the Board of Public Works will have found smooth sailing out of the rough [illegible] of their financial difficulties and will be willing to [illegible] and also the Government assist in paying the expenses of the schools, the fire department and the lighting of the streets. The House has already expressed its willingness to aid the cause of education in the District. When Geo F Hoar stated the other day that the teachers had not been paid for nearly a year the House at once instructed the Committee on District Affairs to report a bill compelling payment. No one would object to the streets being lighted by similar legislation.

The new homestead bill as passed by the House [illegible] provides that no oath shall be required of any applicant for a homestead except to support the Constitution of the United States, and that all patents granted to a railroad shall be subject to the provisions of the bill in all cases where such roads have failed to comply with the conditions of the grants. The bill repeals existing pre-emption laws.

COMMON SENSE ON THE PARTY QUESTION

SILVERTON, M[illegible] 1874.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

It appears to me that the party press of this State, the strictly partisan press I mean, fail to comprehend the position of those persons who are engaged in the Independent movement or else they willfully misrepresent them. I am one of those who believe in laying aside party controversies (since there is no longer any material issue between Republicans and Democrats as such) and joining hands for the purpose of working together for a practical reform in the economy of public affairs. But I am as much a Republican as I ever was. If there were any such issues between the parties now as there were in times past I should act with the Republicans because I conscientiously believe their view to be the correct one, and because my Democratic neighbors conscientiously think they were right, I should expect to see them arrange themselves under the Democratic banner. I do not abandon my Republican principles nor they their Democratic by co-operation with each other to secure a common benefit that has no connection whatever with these questions on which we differ. From the present aspect of affairs I think it extremely doubtful whether any of the main issues that separated Republicans from Democrats will ever again come prominently before the American people, but if they should I am certain to be found on the same side as before.

I believe in the Christian religion as firmly as I believe in the law of [illegible] or any other natural law and yet I should not hesitate to vote for a man for a high office who does not believe in Christianity if he were otherwise competent to discharge the duties of the office and I thought him honest. But if there were danger of a serious and formidable attempt being made to prohibit the exercise of the rites of the Christian religion the matter would be different; the interest of religion being regarded as of paramount concern I should vote for no man who was not above suspicion on this vital point. When nobody contemplates making an assault upon my religion it would be the height of absurdity for me to be rushing round just before every election and setting the neighborhood all ablaze to secure the election of Mr Jones or Mr Brown on the [illegible] ground that he was sound on Christianity.

Again I am a Protestant in principle though I belong to no church. [illegible] as much a Protestant as [illegible] for more of one than [illegible] run for office without [illegible] of the difference between them and me in the religious question [illegible] deem them honest capable men and therefore suitable agents to be entrusted with the business which it is expected they will be called upon to transact for me and the rest of the public. But if anything should occur—I hope nothing ever will—to make it reasonably certain that a fatal contest was to be waged between Catholicism and Protestantism I should do my best endeavors to see that all responsible positions were filled by firm Protestants, for I should expect every consistent Catholic to be an enemy to the cause whose success I should desire.

No one will say that my position is unreasonable in the cases here put in regard to religion. Indeed any other position would be regarded and justly too as bigoted and intolerant. Why then is not the same true of politics? Why bind our action to dead issues? Why continue to wrangle and embroil ourselves with our neighbors over disputes that all admit have long since been settled? Why keep up dissensions about things that can have no possible bearing on the [illegible] affair that [illegible] all when we ought [illegible] effort to correct abuses that [illegible] and inaugurate reform which all admit to be greatly needed.

Yours truly,
CINCINNATUS.

SAILOR CAPTURED.—Some weeks ago a sailor named Dan Mack signed articles of ship[illegible] the Pet for England [illegible] going on board the vessel he received the usual advance and cashed his check just before the vessel sailed. Mack [illegible] another sailor went on board the Pet accompanied by the U S Deputy Marshal. He appeared perfectly satisfied with the surroundings and told the Marshal and captain that he felt entirely at home. [illegible] however was only a cunning dodge to throw these persons off their guard. Soon after the Marshal left the ship and came up street [illegible] the new sailor went to work. In the course of a few minutes the ship swung out from the wharf in doing which the stern came close to the dock. While attention was diverted [illegible] made a leap for liberty and succeeded [illegible] on the wharf. He broke and fled [illegible] pursuit was available he managed to secrete himself in an old building. Although vigilant search was instituted by the officers Mack never dared to show his face until yesterday when he was taken in limbo and lodged [illegible]. The Pet has probably gone to sea ere this but the circumstance will not prevent Mack from receiving the punishment he deserves.

UNION TEMPERANCE PRAYER MEETING.—As was announced in our issue of yesterday the Union Temperance Prayer Meeting was held last evening at the First Baptist Church in this city. In the absence of Rev A J Medbury the meeting was called to order by Rev Dr Atkinson. A hymn of praise was sung after which the Divine blessing was invoked by Rev Mr [illegible]. Fervent prayers were then offered by various members of the different churches in behalf of the temperance cause. Rev T D [illegible]aton offered the closing invocation. Throughout the meeting a deep spirit of prayerful earnestness prevailed. To-day at 2:30 o'clock P M the ladies of the various churches will hold a meeting at the Baptist Church. This evening a meeting will be held at the Taylor street M E Church which will be presided over by Rev Mr Medbury. All are cordially and earnestly invited to attend the meeting and to assist by their presence and benediction the good cause which is moving on.

APPLIED FOR LODGING.—A man giving his name as Barry Kearnes applied to the Chief of Police on Sunday evening and asked for lodgings for the night as he said he had no place to go and nowhere to sleep. The fellow appeared to be in great distress of body and mind and the Chief told him to come in and remain during the night. Kearnes thankfully accepted the offer and took lodgings. Soon after retiring he became very much excited and declared that he had been drugged and begged the officer to go for a physician at once and procure a stomach pump. The officer soothed him, and at length induced the man to lie down and go to sleep. He passed a very sleepless night however and it was with much difficulty that he could be kept quiet. He acted in such a strange wild manner as to convince the officers that he was insane either from the excessive use of strong drink or some other cause. Yesterday morning at his own request he was allowed to [illegible].

KILLED BY A FALLING TREE.—On Saturday afternoon a man named Johnson who had been working in Lawrence's logging [illegible] near Oswego was fatally injured by a tree falling on the small of his back which broke the [illegible] and other smaller [illegible] of the body. It seems the tree had lodged [illegible] some other and while Johnson was in the vicinity [illegible] from its temporary lodgment with the above result. Dr Strong was summoned to render medical aid. His effort to help the injured man were of no avail [illegible] gradually grew worse. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning the poor fellow breathed his last breath of life. Deceased was [illegible] aged about [illegible] years.

THE [illegible]—The smelting [illegible] of the Oswego Iron Works was fired up last [illegible] for the first time since operations were suspended several years ago. A wood fire will be kept burning about ten days [illegible] the tower [illegible] the ore will be thrown in. In order to [illegible] the ore to [illegible] it has to be subjected to an intense fire for about [illegible] hours. After the required [illegible] of heat is attained in the tower the [illegible] process will progress in full blast without interruption. As rapidly as the metal is [illegible] and collected in a molten state at the foot [illegible] By the [illegible] of the [illegible] works will be in full blast.

KILLED BY A FALLING TREE —On Sunday afternoon a man named Johnson who had been working in Lawrence's logging camp near Oswego, was fatally injured by a tree falling on the small of his back which broke the hip-bone and other smaller bones of the body It seems the tree had lodged among some others, and while Johnson was in the vicinity, it fell from its temporary lodgment with the above result. Dr Strong was summoned to render medical aid His efforts to help the injured man were of no avail, as he gradually grew worse At 4 o clock yesterday morning the poor fellow breathed the last breath of life Deceased was a German (or Russian), aged about 34 years

FIRED UP —The smelting tower of the Oswego Iron Works was fired up last Friday for the first time since operations were suspended several years ago A hot coal fire will be kept burning about ten days in the tower before the ore will be thrown in. In order to compel the ore to yield up the metal, it has to be subjected to an intense fire for about twelve hours After the required degree of heat is obtained in the tower the smelting process will progress in full blast without interruption As rapidly as the metal is disengaged and collected in a molten state at the foot of the tower new ore will be thrown in By the last of the present week the works will be in full blast

ADJUDGED INSANE —Louis P Tournel a well known coffee and spice dealer in this city was suddenly afflicted on last Friday with insanity He became so bad that the matter was reported to the County Judge who caused the unfortunate man to be brought before him for examination The examination took place yesterday afternoon and resulted in his being committed to the Asylum Tournel is a Frenchman by birth and a steady industrious fellow The cause of his sudden aberration is attributable to over excitement and want of rest.

HAND ENGINE —The hand fire engine which has long been in possession of Columbian Engine Co No 3 and which has in days gone by, rendered such noble and efficient work under the management of that company will be formally turned over to-day by the Chief Engineer to Tiger Co No 5 This is in obedience to a resolution passed by the Council at its last regular meeting It is needless to say that the members of No 3 have become much attached to the old engine and will part with it not without a pang of regret

WORK COMPLETED

Nearly two years ago a bill was introduced in the United States Senate by Senator H W Corbett, making an appropriation of $50 000 for the improvement of the channel of the Upper Columbia The bill became a law and work was accordingly commenced as soon after the appropriation was deemed practicable. Sealed proposals were advertised for by Major [illegible] for the part of the Government and the contract was awarded to J B Montgomery the well known contractor of the Northern Pacific Railroad This contract was awarded Mr Montgomery and the necessary papers made on the 12th of October 1872 The following are the specifications of the contract the final estimate of work to be done and the material furnished for the improvement of the Upper Columbia The contract called for the removal of 1610 cubic yards of rock at John Day Rapids at an estimated cost of $24 100 At Devils Bend the contract called for the removal of 173 cubic yards of stone at an estimated cost of [illegible] At the Upper Umatilla Rapids 200 cubic yards of rock was required to be removed at an estimated cost of $10 000 Under this contract the sum of $12 500 was required from the appropriation Subsequently after the work had progressed for some months it was found necessary to modify the original contract in one respect That modification called for the removal of 94 more cubic yards of stone at Umatilla Rapids than was specified in the original contract This additional work was estimated at $2 500 making the total cost of the improvement $15 000 Before Major Robert was transferred East all the work at John Day Rapids was completed and 80 per cent of the estimated cost—$24 100 —required by the Government as an indemnity that the conditions of the contract would be faithfully complied with was paid over to the contractor by that gentleman This percentage amounted to $19 280

After Gen Michler assumed charge of this district it became necessary to make a payment of the eighty per cent due on the contract for the improvements made at Devils Bend which amounted to $3 519 60 This swelled the total payments made to $22 799 60, leaving a balance due on the contract of $22 200 40 About a week since all the work contemplated in the contract was completed and the last payment was made to the contractor on the 6th inst This exhausts the appropriation at least so far as the field work is concerned What remains on hand of the appropriation will be applied to the drafting of necessary maps and charts and the defraying of incidental expenses connected with the improvement of the channel

COLLISION AT SEA.

While the schooner Oregonian was making the voyage from San Francisco to this port and beating her way along up the coast, she collided with another vessel and narrowly escaped very serious damages. The collision occurred on last Wednesday about half past 8 o clock in the evening, opposite Cape Lookout —nearly 60 miles south of the mouth of the Columbia A heavy blinding snow storm was raging, and a stiff gale blowing at the time the two vessels collided The captain of the Oregonian did not perceive the lights on the other vessel in consequence of the prevailing storm and darkness until a collision could not possibly be averted Both vessels were within a few rods of each other before the situation of danger was discovered Each vessel was carrying considerable canvas, and moving at the rate of about 8 knots to the hour The jib booms of the approaching vessels caught thus diverting them from their course and was the fortunate means of breaking the force of the shock. The Oregonian sustained damages scarcely worthy of mention but the other craft had her jibboom broken off and considerable of the head gear ing carried away After the collision the Oregonian remained in the vicinity of the scene for nearly two hours, during which time the crew of the other vessel was busily engaged in clearing away the wreck No signals of distress were displayed, and the Oregonian continued on her course Strange as it may appear, not a word was exchanged between the respective captains or crews so that those on board the Oregonian did not know what the name of the other was However there can be little doubt but what it was the schooner Hera bound for San Francisco This vessel left Astoria on Wednesday morning early, and passed out over the bar and the collision occurred on the evening of the same day The captain of the Oregonian informs us that the size of the vessel and the style of her rigging exactly corresponded with that of the Hera He was unable to determine the extent of the damages sustained by the other vessel but was of the opinion it could not have been very serious Fortunately these vessels were moving forward in a straight line and when they struck and became entangled both swung round side by side Had they struck quarteringly the consequences would have been disastrous to both Fifty dollars or less will repair all damages sustained by the Oregonian

THE CENTENNIAL BILL —A Washington dispatch of the 3d says The Centennial debate in the Senate to-day was quite lively and interesting. The most powerful speech made against the bill was delivered by Senator Stevenson The prevailing sentiment in the Senate seems to be to make the celebration in 1876 national, and if this idea is accepted by the Pennsylvania Senators there is no doubt a very liberal appropriation will be granted. Senators Bayard of Delaware and Stockton of New Jersey will both speak to-morrow in favor of the bill It is expected a vote will be reached to morrow

THE BURNING COAL MINE —A Wilkesbarre dispatch of March 3d says The miners who have been for the last two months fighting the fire at the Empire mine closed work last evening when a most extensive cave of the mine occurred exceeding in extent the fall of the Baltimore mine a short time since Great consternation prevails in the neighborhood and families are preparing to leave. The fire has now free scope and threatens to ruin utterly one of the most valuable mines

PORTLAND, DALLES AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD

PORTLAND March 9 1874

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Very many of the residents in Portland have noticed the situation of our business in general that in that broad and general aspect of it it cannot be called permanent and satisfactory There seems to be no hope to place it upon that basis which our climate, resources and situation entitle us to but by a direct line of railroad communication with the East The Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad bill, now before Congress seems to be the best hope of attaining that object The people of Portland are all interested in this matter as well as the whole of the Northwest It is not alone as an enterprise that the building of this road is looked to by the people of this section of country all have come to regard it as being an essential measure in order to sustain our growing business and the settlement and development of a section of country that is incomparable in every requisite for a dense population

Now, it is proposed to hold a railroad meeting in order to make expression of the feeling here in regard to this matter and to telegraph the same, in the shape of a resolution to Washington City and there have it published in the city press as a demand by the people of the Northwest and to accompany the resolution with the names of some of our business men, as an evidence that what is said is meant

The bill now before Congress seems to be on a turning point whether it will pass or not

The people here have a right to say something about their interests and welfare Many have passed from 10 to 20 years here and by their intelligence and course of conduct in that time prove that they can well judge of the exigencies of the section of country in which they live

It has really heretofore been too much the case, at least, in some respects, that we have been granted the right of petition but we have been heard not heeded

Our Legislature memorialized Congress the memorial was received Private petitions largely signed, have already been presented to Congress were cordially received and the chasm apparently remained still open for more

Now I believe that the mind of the people in general in the Northwest is that they are entitled to this Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad subsidy as provided for by the present bill before Congress And as it seems now to be a turning point, somewhat, in the fate of that bill I am of the opinion that an expression from the people here demanding that the bill be passed as a matter of right, would have proper influence Yours truly

CLEOPATRA.

The following remarkable poem by W. W. Story the eminent sculptor appeared many years ago in Blackwood. Aside from the magnificence of its diction the idea of the poem is so bold and original that very few will feel themselves familiar with it even on a second reading.

Here, Charmian, take my bracelets—
They bar with a purple stain
My arms; turn over my pillows—
They are hot where I have lain
Open the lattice wider
A gauze on my bosom throw
And let me inhale the odors
That over the garden blow

I dreamed that I was with my Antony
And in his arms I lay
Ah me! the vision has vanished—
Its music has died away
The flame and the perfume have perished—
As this spiced aromatic pastille
That wound the blue smoke of its odor
Is now but an ashy hill

Scatter upon me rose leaves—
They cool me after my sleep—
And with sandal odors fan me
Till into my veins they creep
Reach down the lute and play me
A melancholy tune
To rhyme with the dream that has vanished
And the slumbering afternoon

There drowsing in golden sunlight
Loiters the slow smooth Nile
Through slender papyri that cover
The sleeping crocodile
The lotus lolls on the water
And opens its heart of gold
And over its broad leaf pavement
Never a ripple is rolled
The twilight breeze is too lazy
Those feathery palms to wave
And yon little cloud is as motionless
As stone above a grave

Ah me! this lifeless nature
Oppresses my heart and brain!
Oh! for a storm and thunder—
For lightning and wild fierce rain!
Fling down that lute—I hate it!
Take rather his buckler and sword
And crash and clash them together
Till this sleeping world is stirred.

Hark! to my Indian beauty—
My cockatoo, creamy white,
With roses under his feathers—
That flash across the light.
Look! listen! as backward and forward
To his hoop of gold he clings
How he trembles with crest uplifted
And shrieks as he madly swings!
Oh, cockatoo, shriek for Antony!
Cry "Come my love, come home!"
Shriek "Antony! Antony! Antony!"
Till he hears you even in Rome

There—leave me and take from my chamber
That wretched little gazelle
With its bright black eyes so meaningless
And its silly tinkling bell
Take him—my nerves he vexes—
The thing without blood or brain—
Or by the body of Isis,
I'll snap his thin neck in twain!

Leave me to gaze at the landscape
Mistily stretching away
When the afternoon's opaline tremor
O'er the mountains quivering play
Till the fiercer splendor of sunset
Pours from the west its fire,
And melted as in a crucible,
Their earthly forms expire
And the bald, blear skull of the desert
With glowing mountains is crowned
That burning like molten jewels
Circle its temples round

I will lie and dream of the past time
Eons of thought away
And through the jungle of memory
Loosen my fancy to play
When a smooth and velvety tiger
Ribbed with yellow and black,
Supple and cushioned footed
I wandered where never the track
Of a human creature had rustled
The silence of the mighty wood
And fierce in a tyrannous freedom
I knew but the law of my moods.
The elephant trumpeting started
When he heard my footsteps near
And the spotted giraffes fled wildly
In a yellow cloud of fear
I sucked in the noontide splendor
Quivering along the glade
Or yawning panting and dreaming
Basked in the Tamarisk shade,
Till I heard my wild mate roaring,
As the shadows of night came on
To brood in the trees thick branches
And the shadow of sleep was gone
Then I roused and roared in answer
And unsheathed from my cushioned feet
My curving claws and stretched me,
And wandered my mate to greet
We toyed in the amber moonlight
Upon the warm flat sand,
And struck at each other our massive arms—
How powerful he was and grand!
His yellow eyes flashed fiercely
As he crouched and gazed at me
And his quivering tail, like a serpent,
Twitched curving nervously
Then like a storm he seized me,
With a wild triumphant cry
And we met, as two clouds in heaven
When the thunders before them fly
We grappled and struggled together
For his love like his rage was rude
And his teeth in the swelling folds of my neck
At times, in our play, drew blood.

Often another suitor—
For I was flexile and fair—
Fought for me in the moonlight
While I lay couching there
Till his blood was drained by the desert
And ruffled with triumph and power
He licked me and lay beside me
To breath him a vast half hour
Then down to the fountains we loitered
Where the antelopes came to drink
Like a bolt we sprang upon them
Ere they had time to shrink
We drank their blood and crushed them
And tore them limb from limb
And the hungriest lion doubted
Ere he disputed with him.

That was a life to live for!
Not this weak human life
With its frivolous bloodless passions
Its poor and petty strife!
Come to my arms my hero,
The shadows of twilight grow
And the tiger's ancient fierceness
In my veins begins to flow
Come not cringing to sue me!
Take me with triumph and power
As a warrior that storms a fortress
I will not shrink or cower
Come as you came in the desert
Ere we were women and men
When the tiger passions were in us
And love as you loved me then.

ADVICE TO AMERICAN GIRLS IN PARIS

AN INCIDENT WHICH HAPPENED IN A PARISIAN CAFE, AND THE MORAL THEREOF

[Paris Cor (Jan. 23,) N Y Times]

Last night I witnessed the discomfiture of two young American ladies who evidently got themselves into a mess by not understanding the customs of the country. They entered the Cafe Tortoni, Boulevard des Italiens, unaccompanied and the waiter declined to serve them with ice cream. They were politely told that it was the rule of the establishment not to serve ladies alone, and they were obliged to pass out under the gaze of a large number of ladies and gentlemen sitting at the tables. Their faces showed that they were honest girls and that they were intensely humiliated. They thought that they could enter here and eat their ice as comfortably and securely as at many establishments on Broadway. The Cafe Tortoni is one of the most respectable places in Paris, and its ices are famous. They are found on the tables of the aristocratic and official world at all grand dinners, and in a word they are delicious. This is one of the few places in the city where gentlemen go with their wives. This reputation for respectability could never be kept up except by making it an inexorable rule not to serve ladies unaccompanied, for if one were allowed, there would be no excuse for refusing another, and as all the habitues of Tortoni's are rich or well to do the demi monde would soon make that a favorite rendezvous. On each side are cafes where a dozen women of the boulevards can be seen at all times, and it is just for that reason that no American woman would enter there. The respectable places are only kept so by making this rule inexorable. American girls are apt to think that they can take care of themselves in any part of the world and that may be true if they conform to the customs of the country in which they are, but here two American girls cannot get out unaccompanied at 9 o'clock in the evening to get ice-cream without being liable to a mauvais quart d'heure. In fine, with all due deference to those who think otherwise I do not think that American girls should promenade the streets of Paris at night without a gentleman protector. I may render a service to some one by saying that the respectable cafes do not serve ladies alone and I cannot imagine that American girls would enter the other sort except by error or ignorance. Accompanied by a gentleman they are just as free from insult or annoyance as in their own homes.

QUEER NAMES.—An Ohio paper alleges that the following are the names of a family of eleven children in its locality, the father being a minister in good standing: Lala Vo, female; Laco Tu, male; Iona Le, female; Alga Po, male; Vola Ta, female; Noli Fe, male; Cara La, female; Dula Ma, male; Neni Ra, female; Rumo Do, male; Romo Va, male.

A larger amount of wheat and oats will be sown in Whitman county W. T. this year than was last, and it is expected that quite a shipment of grain will be made.

The [illegible] with [illegible] The city banks are [illegible] which are offered [illegible] on the usual terms while outside parties are [illegible] at rates varying from 1½@1½ per cent per [illegible] son of the backwardness of the season which has tended [illegible] to lessen in some degree the demand which would otherwise prevail. The call for coin to purchase produce is also very much decreased, the bulk of the trade in that line for the year having passed. We shall probably witness but few changes from the present tolerably easy condition of monetary affairs of our local market before the incoming of another harvest, unless the action of Congress on some of the financial measures before it shall stimulate speculation to such a degree as to effect a general fluctuation throughout the country. The prospect for such a result is now not [illegible] which indicate such a result.

The New York T[illegible], which is opposed to inflation, publishes a communication in favor of an increase of currency, evidently from the pen of a banker thoroughly well informed on the subject. He furnishes a table of the maximum and minimum of reserve in the New York banks for eight consecutive years. It is as follows:

	Maximum of Reserve		Minimum of Reserve
1866 Sept 1	$92 000 000	March 3	$58 000 000
1867 Aug 10	77 000 000	Nov 23	[illegible] 000 000
1868 Aug 8	74 000 000	Dec 26	48 000 000
1869 May 29	58 000 000	Dec [illegible]	44 000 000
1870 June 4	61 000 000	Dec [illegible]	47 000 000
1871 Aug 9	71 000 000	Dec 30	40 000 000
1872 June [illegible]	[illegible] 000 000	April	36 000 000
1873 Aug 2	[illegible]0 000 000	Oct —	5 000 000

It will be seen that with a single exception there has been a steady decrease year by year of both maximum and minimum reserves. As the great banking center of the country, New York may be accepted as an index of the entire country. The lesson is clear,—that there has been a gradual withdrawal from business centers and uses, and thus practically an actual diminution of currency.

The Growth of Commerce.

In an article on the Progress of the Commercial World the Boston Journal says:

The development of industry through the agency of labor saving invention is the great fact of modern times. Progress is seen indeed in every direction—in population, intelligence, refinement and morality, but in none of these respects is there that visible and astonishing advance which we find in the creation of wealth. According to a statistical authority the eleven leading commercial nations of the globe, namely—Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, Belgium, Austria, Russia, Italy, Spain, Netherlands and Sweden—have nearly doubled their commerce in less than two decades.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The boats from the Upper Willamette continue to bring down considerable quantities. The Grover to-day from Harrisburg brought 2 865 sacks mostly from Corvallis and Irish Bend. The cars are carrying but little wheat. The ships in port are all nearly loaded and the inquiry is not active, though the market is a little improved on last week. Quotations have been given in some instances at $1 70 per cental—the range being $1 65@1 70.

FLOUR—The stocks in hand are not so large and rates are steady at $6 ⅌ bbl for standard brands of extra, $5 50 for good outside brands and $4 75@[illegible] for fine and superfine. The local trade active.

OATS—With average receipts we notice a fair state of trade, the demand for choice lots being quite active at 45 cents ⅌ bushel.

FEED—There is no decline in rates and with a good local demand we anticipate none this week. The backwardness of the season keeps up a brisk call. We quote bran at $14 ⅌ ton, shorts $20@22 50, chops middlings etc $25, oilcake meal, $27 50.

BARLEY—Quiet at $1 40@1 45 per cental sacked.

HAY—In steady demand at $14 per ton for baled timothy, $12 50@1[illegible] for loose wild $8@9.

POTATOES—Demand active at 50@60 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—Some inquiry exists for choice lots at $1 50@1 75 per 100 pounds.

APPLES—Receipts light at 60@65 cents per box.

BACON—Well cured and trimmed, we quote sides at 10@11 cents per pound, shoulders 9c, hams 1[illegible]@16c.

LARD—In 10 pound tins we quote at 12½c per pound and a little dull while good lots in kegs are in better demand at 11@11½c.

BUTTER—As heretofore the market has a wide range, the best being quotable at 25@30 cents per pound and common at 15@18c.

CHEESE—Oregon made quotable firm at 15@17 cents per pound.

EGGS—The supplies are quite liberal and many lots are changing hands at 18 cents per dozen while some few of fresh receipts sell at 20 cents.

CHICKENS—There is rather a large supply offering and we notice sales at $3@3 50 per dozen. Other poultry unchanged.

HIDES—There is no change in prices while the demand is active and the receipts quite large.

WOOL—Nothing doing in this market. Eastern reports confirm hopes of an active demand the coming season. Fair lots may open here at 25 cents per pound.

Shipping Intelligence.

The regular steamer from San Francisco will be due here to-morrow evening.

The bark Silver Cloud has completed her cargo of wheat for Europe and gone down the river.

The schooner Dreadnaught has been busy to-day finishing her cargo with wheat for San Francisco. She will probably drop down the river to-morrow.

The steamer California from Sitka is now due.

The bark Chasca has drawn over to this side and is completing her cargo for Europe.

The barkentine Portland is receiving a freight of produce for San Francisco.

The schooner Emma Augusta has completed her cargo of produce and sailed for San Francisco.

The bark Antioch, to load wheat for England, is about due here from San Francisco.

HOMESTEADS!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the LANDS of the Oregon Central Military Road Company are offered for sale upon the following terms:

To actual occupants and for the purpose of actual occupation for one fourth of the purchase price paid down and the balance in three equal annual installments, the purchaser to execute his promissory notes to the Company for such deferred payments payable in one two and three years drawing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum until maturity, after which to draw interest at the rate of one per cent per month, and the Company to execute to the purchaser a bond for a conveyance of the land purchased by Special Warranty Deed conditioned upon payment of the notes.

Parties other than occupants desiring to purchase lands in large quantities can purchase upon terms to be agreed upon on making application, but actual settlers in all cases will be preferred upon making their application within a reasonable time.

Until further ordered the price of lands can be ascertained by application being made to the Land Agent. All applications to purchase lands must be made to B. J. PENGRA, Land Agent of the Company, whose postoffice address is at Springfield in Lane county in this State.

All application must be in writing and must contain the description of the lands desired to be purchased by the legal subdivisions, a statement of the kind and quality of the land and its locality with reference to settlements, etc. and whether or not it is occupied and if so by whom and the date of such occupation, and upon the approval of the application the first installments of the purchase price must be paid to the Agent.

The placing of these lands in the market affords an excellent opportunity to settlers to procure homesteads in one of the finest portions of the State and of the most fertile lands upon this coast accessible from the Willamette Valley by a good wagon road and convenient to the older settlements, reasonable as to price and upon terms of payment within the reach of all.

THIS BANK HAS ESTABLISHED IN CONNECTION with the general Banking business a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT and will allow Interest on Coin Deposits made in accordance with the conditions adopted by the Association.

In establishing a SAVINGS DEPARTMENT this Banking Association has in view the benefit to accrue to a class of persons having small sums to loan by providing a safe place of deposit, ample security and fair rate of interest, as well as to aggregate and bring into use idle capital.

For the safety of deposits in this Bank are pledged its entire capital and resources, and also the personal liability of its Directors and Stockholders as provided by Section 12 of the National Currency Act, approved June 3, 1864, a greater security than that given by ordinary Savings Banks. Printed copies of the conditions upon which deposits are received may be had upon application at the Bank.

Kaiser Wilhelm Writes a Letter to Lord Russell.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Foreign papers of the [illegible] ult contain the following letter received by Lord Russell from the German Emperor:

BERLIN, Feb [illegible] 1874.

To Dear Lord Russell: I have received your letter of January 28th with [illegible] of the great meeting in London and my Ambassador [illegible] report of the proceedings. I thank you sincerely for this communication and for the accompanying expression of your personal good will [illegible] me to be leader of my people in the struggle maintained through centuries past by German Emperors of earlier days against a power, the domination of which has in no country of the world been compatible with the freedom and welfare of nations—a power which if victorious in our days would imperil not in Germany alone the blessings of the reformation and liberty of conscience and the authority of law. I accept the battle thus imposed upon me in fulfillment of my kingly duties and with firm reliance in God to whose help we look for victory, but also in a spirit of regard for the creeds of others and evangelical forbearance which has been stamped by my forefathers [illegible] and administration of my States. The latest measures of my Government [illegible] infringe upon the Romish Church or the free exercise of religion by her votaries. They [illegible] give to independence of legislation [illegible] some of the guarantees long possessed [illegible] other countries and formerly possessed by Prussia without being held by the [illegible] compatible with the free exercise [illegible] at the proof afforded me by your letter that the sympathy of the people of England would not fail me in this struggle—the people of England to whom my people and my royal house [illegible] remembrance of many a past and honorable struggle maintained in common since the days of William of Orange. I beg you to [illegible] this letter with my hearty thanks to the [illegible] signed the resolution [illegible]

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) W[illegible]
